MADSEN Aurical USB

As part of the ongoing efforts to ensure that GN Otometrics products are constantly updated according to market requirements, GN Otometrics are happy to announce that all MADSEN Auricals as of February 2005 will have a USB port for PC connection instead of a serial port. This will facilitate connection to computers that don't have a physical serial port. This solution provides the same connectivity possibilities as a "traditional" Aurical with a serial port and a USB-to-serial converter.
